☐ Yes ☐ No

CAUTION:

- Exhaustion of State Court Remedies: In order to proceed in federal court you must ordinarily first exhaust your state court remedies as to each ground on which you request action by the federal court. This means that even if you have exhausted some grounds by raising them before the California Supreme Court, you must first present all other grounds to the California Supreme Court before raising them in your federal Petition.
- Single Petition: If you fail to set forth all grounds in this Petition challenging a specific judgment, you may be barred from presenting additional grounds challenging the same judgment at a later date.
- Factual Specificity: You must state facts, not conclusions, in support of your grounds. For example, if you are claiming incompetence of counsel you must state facts specifically setting forth what your attorney did or failed to do. A rule of thumb to follow is — state who did exactly what to violate your federal constitutional rights at what time or place.

GROUND FOR RELIEF

22. State concisely every ground on which you claim that you are being held in violation of the constitution, law or treaties of the United States. Summarize briefly the facts supporting each ground. If necessary, you may attach pages stating additional grounds and/or facts supporting each ground.

- (a) GROUND ONE The failure to properly instruct amounted to a federal due process violation requiring reversal.

Supporting FACTS (state briefly without citing cases or law) On October 12, 2002, Dennis Hernandez, who lives across the street from petitioner, was out watering his lawn. Hernandez heard a gunshot and turned and saw petitioner yelling at someone walking down the sidewalk. He could not hear all that petitioner was yelling except for the person to stay away from his house. When the person turned and said something to petitioner, petitioner raised the gun chest high and fired again at the person. That is when the person started running away. Hernandez did not know the person petitioner was shooting at although he had seen him scavenging trash in the neighborhood in the past (I RT 43-47, 72-75.)

Hernandez went into the house and called 911. Police arrived about two minutes later. (I RT 54.)

Kenneth Patterson, a Riverside deputy sheriff, arrived first. He saw Cleo Cortina, Jr.,<sup>1</sup> getting into a car in front of petitioner's house. Cortina had his four year old brother with him. As Patterson stopped Cortina and talked to him, petitioner came out of his house. Petitioner said that he was no longer a parolee and he should not be treated this way. As Patterson tried to get information from Cortina, two other officers, Kenneth Black and Ernest.....Cont. on page 6-6i.

Did you raise GROUND ONE in the California Supreme Court?

☒ Yes ☐ No.

1. Hereinafter, Cleo Cortina, Jr. will be referred to only as Cortina. Cleo Cortina, Sr. will be referred to only as petitioner

Estrada, who arrived shortly after Patterson, tried to get petitioner to go back in his house. (I RT 91, 94-101.)

Petitioner's house had a gate around it and two pit bull dogs in the backyard. Petitioner opened the gate and came out of his yard, right up to Estrada. He told Estrada that they had killed petitioner's brother and he would kill them. Petitioner was told by the officers to go back in the house and eventually he did. (I RT 102-103.)

As Patterson was again talking to Cortina, petitioner came out of the house again. He came up to the gate and told the officers to quit harassing his family and to leave. Although he did not threaten the officers again, he walked back and forth in the yard, not complying with directions to go back in his house. (I RT 103-107.)

At some point Carmello Torres, petitioner's pastor, came up to the gate and started talking to petitioner, telling him to cooperate with the police. Patterson asked Cortina to call his mother, who was in the house, so Patterson could talk to her. Cortina did so and about five minutes later she came out of the house. Petitioner told her to go back in the house, although she approached Patterson and spoke with him in any event. (I RT 108, 110-117; II RT 437.)

Petitioner went back in his house and came back out again. Patterson thought that petitioner may be armed. He saw a protrusion from the left side of petitioner's waistband and his shirt was now pulled over his waist. After awhile, petitioner went back into the house. (I RT 117-118.)

About 45 minutes after his initial call to police, Hernandez looked out his window and saw the police were still outside petitioner's house. Hernandez approached the police. Petitioner was waiving his arms and asking Hernandez why he called the police. Hernandez approached the police and said he felt threatened by petitioner. At some point, petitioner approached the fence where Hernandez was on the sidewalk and told Hernandez he did not know what he was talking about. Although petitioner was yelling, he calmed down as he talked to Hernandez. Petitioner told Hernandez that the person he shot at had attacked his family with a machete a few days before and petitioner was taking care of the neighborhood. (I RT 54-62.)

Petitioner went back in his house and Patterson again talked to petitioner's wife and Cortina. As he did so, Patterson heard two shots being fired in the house. The three officers set up a perimeter. Petitioner's wife and Cortina left the scene. Torres ran into the house. Numerous other officers arrived. (I RT 119-126.)

Eventually, petitioner came out of the house by himself. Patterson told petitioner to lift up his shirt which he did. Petitioner walked back towards where the dogs were and released them into the front yard. Petitioner started backing up towards the house as officers went over the gate and tackled petitioner. They arrested him. The dogs, which were snapping at the officers, were shot dead. (I RT 127-129, 183, 280-282.)

After doing a protective sweep with his canine, Riverside Deputy Sheriff Doug Swan helped with evidence collection. He went into the house and saw a revolver inside the house along with ammunition. They were on a shelf near the front door. The gun itself was empty of both live rounds and casings. The rounds were both in a black eye glass case and loose on the shelf. (I RT 274, 283-291.)

Police spoke with Hernandez about the trajectory of the bullets. Although they searched, no bullets, bullet holes or bullet impact places were found. (I RT 267-270.)

Debra Kowal, a criminalist with the Los Angeles County Department of the Coroner, found gunshot residue on petitioner's hands. (II RT 346-358.)

DEFENSE

Petitioner testified that he and his family were going to have an informal party at a nearby park. As they were getting ready to leave, petitioner was told that Michael Tijerina was outside selling earrings. Tijerina was often around the neighborhood selling items, so petitioner went to look at them. One pair was for $10. Petitioner told Tijerina to wait in the front yard and petitioner would go get the money. (II RT 482-485.)

Petitioner's wife told petitioner that Tijerina had come into the house and was saying offensive things to her. For instance, he called her a bitch and a whore and was swearing at her. Petitioner's wife looked scared. When Tijerina did the same thing in front of petitioner, he hit Tijerina in the face. Tijerina took off running, saying that he would be back to burn down the house and kill petitioner's family. (II RT 486-487.)

Petitioner was frightened because he knew that Tijerina suffered from a mental illness. Tijerina had a reputation around the neighborhood for violence. Petitioner had heard that Tijerina had hurt and robbed people, and chased them with a machete. Petitioner was therefore scared by Tijerina's reputation and thought he would really do what he said. (II RT 487-489, 578-580.)

Petitioner had two weeks earlier found a gun in his son's room. Because other children go in the room, petitioner had removed it and placed it in a closet for safekeeping. He had not yet told his son about moving the gun. He now took the gun from the closet and placed it on a shelf near the door. (II RT 496-499.)

Petitioner went to the park with his family but returned with his sons, Cortina and Jose. Cortina was getting Jose ready for a party. As he was doing so, Tijerina came back to the gate, yelling at petitioner from outside that he said he would be back. Petitioner grabbed the gun and went outside and saw Tijerina opening the gate. He was again threatening to kill petitioner and his whole family, and burn down the house. Petitioner fired in the air. Petitioner was scared at the time and felt he needed to protect himself. (II RT 492-495, 500-501, 504-506.)

Tijerina backed up out of the gate. As he did so, he started moving down the street, still yelling at petitioner about how he would harm petitioner and his family. When he stopped and turned towards petitioner, petitioner fired a second shot over Tijerina's head. Petitioner said he was not trying to hit Tijerina but to scare him. After the second shot, Tijerina took off running out of sight. (II RT 506-510.)

Soon after, Cortina and Jose went out to Cortina's car. As they were doing so, Patterson pulled up behind the car. Petitioner, who saw Patterson approach, went outside to find out what was going on. He asked Patterson why he was harassing Cortina and Jose. Although Patterson asked petitioner to step back because it does not concern him, petitioner was getting upset because Jose was hot and crying. Petitioner asked if he could take Jose, but apparently could not. At one point, petitioner even opened the gate to come outside, but Patterson pushed it shut, pushing petitioner back in the yard. (II RT 512-516.)

Petitioner told Patterson to quit treating him like he was still on parole or like his brother. Patterson said that they do not shoot people in the back like Indio police. By this point, the two other officers had arrived. (II RT 517, 521.)

Petitioner was angry, especially about the remark involving his brother. However, he did not threaten the officers at any point. The most he said was that they would have to tackle him to take him down and arrest him. Petitioner was extremely involved in the Victory Ministry. There, he had numerous dealings with police officers. He had no vendetta against anyone, including the ones who shot his brother. (II RT 517-520, 574-575.)

Petitioner went and sat on the porch. He did not want to go in because he wanted to keep an eye on his sons. At one point he went out and spoke with his son, and then went back into his house. In total, petitioner thought that he went 3-4 times into the house. (II RT 523-529.)

At some point, the officers were no longer even talking to Cortina. Petitioner told them to leave his family alone. Estrada told petitioner he does not own the road, the county does. (II RT 531.)

The last time petitioner went in the house, Torres went in with him. Torres calmed him down. Torres testified that he came to the house because he noticed the anger between petitioner and Patterson. Both were swearing at each other. They were in the house for ten to fifteen minutes before coming out again. Petitioner had not touched the gun again since the second shot in Tijerina's direction. He unloaded the gun one of the times he had gone back in the house, leaving it on the shelf. He did hear gunshots while he was in the house, but he had not shot them. There were numerous shots fired in the neighborhood though so did not concern him. Torres did not hear any shots fired. (II RT 432-438, 567-569, 638.)

When he came out the last time, the officers jumped over the fence and tackled him. He was wrestled to the ground and arrested. While in the police car, he heard the gunshots, apparently the police shooting the pit bulls. (II RT 570-574.)

Cortina admitted that the gun petitioner used was his. Cortina had kept it under the bed and would go shooting with friends. He also kept bullets under the bed or in the dresser. He had not told anyone that fact because he had gotten the gun "in the street" and knew that it was not registered. He was scared that he would get in trouble. (II RT 390-391, 423; III RT 868-870.)

Numerous people testified on petitioner's behalf from Victory Ministry. They knew that petitioner had committed crimes in the past and had been to prison. However, he was a leader in the church, would mentor troubled teenagers, would get them involved in church and school, and that he was neither an angry nor violent man. (II RT 441-447, 452-459, 465-471; III RT 735-736, 743-747.)

Bryan Casier, the custodian of records for the Riverside County Department of Mental Health, testified that Tijerina had numerous holds, both voluntary and involuntary, with the department of mental health. He suffered from schizophrenia and psychosis. He had been hospitalized and released near the time he came to petitioner's house. (II RT 753-780.)

REBUTTAL

Julie Thornhill, a probation officer, spoke to petitioner for purposes of creating a report prior to trial. Petitioner told her the gun was his for protection because they lived in a bad neighborhood. Petitioner testified at the trial he told her this because he wanted to get a better deal. (III RT 809-811, 873-874.)

Hernandez testified that he has known Tijerina for about five years. He was always walking around the neighborhood with a beer in his hand. Petitioner was not shooting at Tijerina on the day of the incident. (IV RT 892-894.)

Patterson spoke to Cortina shortly after the incident. Cortina thought his father was upset but did not know why. Cortina said his father had been drinking, although Cortina denied saying that. Petitioner also testified, as did members of Victory Outreach, that he had not had anything to drink in years. Cortina did not mention to Patterson that the gun was his. (II RT 403, 461, 473, 481; IV RT 898-899.)

Petitioner had another inmate call petitioner's house to have Cortina testify that the gun was his. A message was eventually left for Cortina, although he had already spoken with the attorney representing petitioner at that point. Cortina had also spoken to another attorney to find out the legal implications of admitting he possessed an unregistered gun. (III RT 869-870; IV RT 904-911, 915; II CT 428c.)

(b) GROUND TWO: Trial counsel was ineffective by failing to object when the court did not give CALJIC.5.50 or request further language to CALJIC. No. 12.50., in violation of petitioner's Sixth and Fourteenth Amendment Rights.
